

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TAKES WAGON-LOAD OF PRESENTS FROM THE FOREIGN BUILDINGS AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

WEST POINT TOO STRONG FOR THE ANNAPOLIS TEAM

Soldier Boys Score Twice on the Midshipmen in First Half—Doe Missed Initial Kick for Goal.

TIPTON AND TORNEY MADE THE TOUCHDOWNS

Tremendous Crowd Out for the Annual Army-Navy Football Struggle on Franklin Field at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—West Point scored twice on Annapolis in the first half of the big game on Franklin Field. Score, West Point 11, Navy 0.

The crowd began to gather within the grounds as early as 1 o'clock, and continued to jam the passageways to the stands until after the game had begun. Secretary Morton was given a long cheer by both the army and navy boys when he made his way to his seat. A minute later Prince Fushimi came on the grounds, escorted by Mayor Weaver and Provost Harrison of the university.

The officers are: Referee, Wrightington of Harvard; umpire, Wrenn, Harvard; linesman, Hare, Pennsylvania. The navy won the toss and took the west goal, with the wind at their backs. The army was given the ball.

Morton is playing quarterback for the navy instead of Wilcox. After 15 minutes of play the army kicked to navy at midfield. Tipton ran through and kicking the ball ahead of him, dribbled it to the navy's goal and fell on it for a touchdown. Prince bunted out and army heeled the catch. Doe missed the goal.

Score, West Point 5, Navy 0. Army scores a touchdown. Score, West Point 10, Navy 0.

Torney made a touchdown. Doe kicks goal. Score, West Point 11, Navy 0.

PICTURE PASSES CAUSE OF SUIT

Fraternal Identification Company Asks $50,000 From the Exposition Company.

AN INFRINGEMENT CLAIMED

Plaintiffs Allege That Rights to Use Photograph Passes Exist Solely With Them.

The Fraternal Identification Co. of America, through its St. Louis attorney, William D. Sumner, filed a bill for $50,000 damages in the United States Circuit Court this morning against the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co., alleging violation of copyrights and patents held by the plaintiff covering all identification passes and cards.

According to the petition, all of the photograph passes issued by the Exposition company are in direct violation of the identification company's rights.

Attorney Sumner says that his clients carried on a lengthy correspondence with the Exposition company with a view to the use of their patents. He says that in the course of the correspondence all the methods of the identification company were explained, even to the kind of paste used on the photographs, which turns the paper red when steamed in any attempt to remove the picture.

According to the bill, when all these secrets were learned the Exposition company appropriated them to their own use without paying royalties to the holder of the patents.

The identification company made several attempts to have the matter adjusted and finally filed the damage suit for $50,000.

TELESCOPE FIRST AT NEW ORLEANS

Ran Away From Abe Frank and Mizzin in the Opening Event on the Card.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26.—The continuation of the fine weather brought out a large attendance to the Crescent City track today. The course was in perfect shape, smooth and fast. The scratching of De Henke in the handicap made that event an open race.

First race, three-quarters of a mile—Telescope, first; Abe Frank, second; Mizzin, third. Time 1:13 3/4.

BOTH POOR SHOTS; BURGLAR ESCAPED WITH $275 CASH

Six Shots Exchanged Between Masked Robber and His Victim, but None Is Believed to Have Taken Effect.

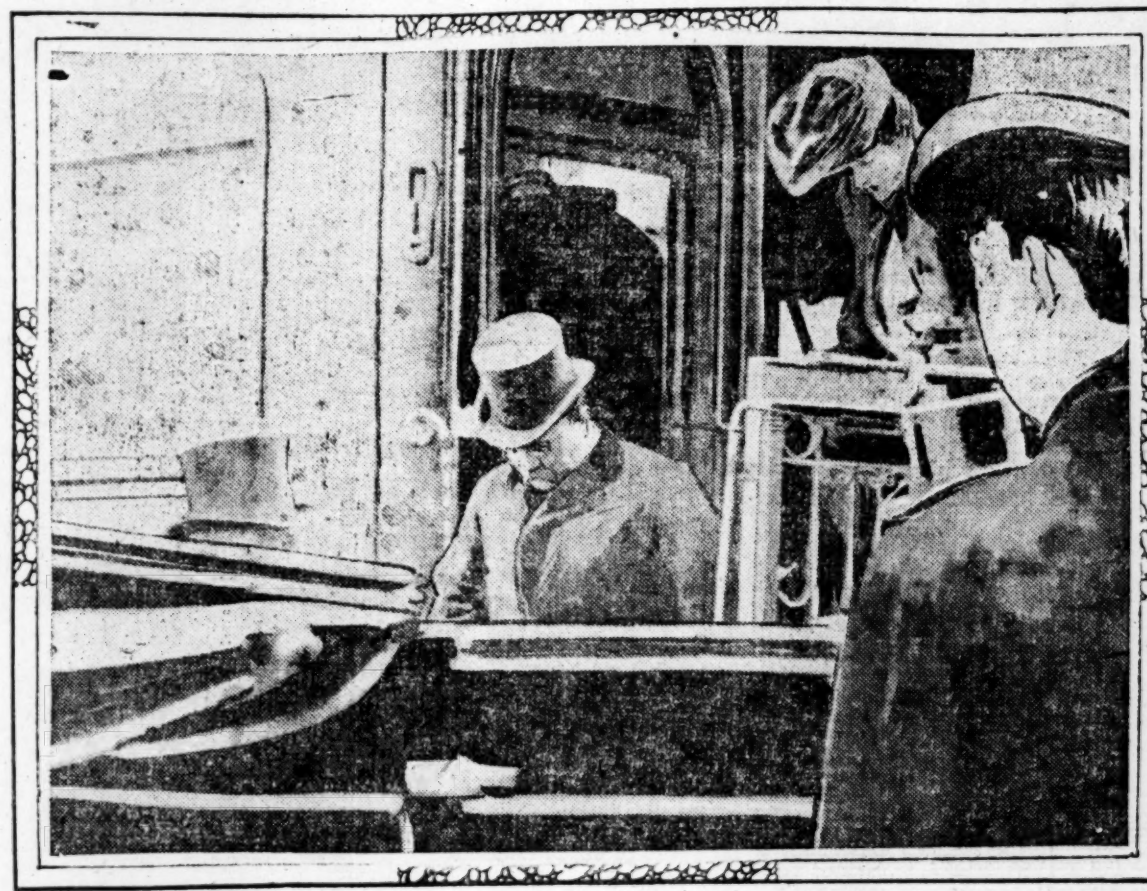

Startled from his sleep at 3:45 o'clock Saturday morning by a noise in an adjoining room, William Morris of 2903 Eckoff avenue jumped from his bed and discovered a burglar in the act of rifling his trousers near a window which had been pried open. On seeing Morris the man leaped through the window and escaped. Morris' desk had been broken open and its contents, consisting of $25 in bills, a silver watch with gold chain, a black-handled razor and a steel tape measure were carried off by the burglar.

When he discovered the man Morris returned to his bedroom and secured his revolver. By the time he had reached the front yard the burglar was climbing the fence in the rear of the house. Morris fired three shots at the disappearing form and he was answered by three shots from the burglar. Morris does not believe any of the bullets took effect.

In his flight the burglar dropped Morris' trousers and also the revolver. In the excitement Morris failed to notice the appearance of the man. He wore a mask.

The discharge of the firearms brought Patrolmen Peter Manion and Eugene O'Connor of the Mounton district to the scene, but the burglar had escaped before their arrival.

Snapshots of the President Stepping Out of His Car at the World's Fair and Bowing to the Cheering Crowds Along the Line

Chief Magistrate, Wife and Daughter Showered With Valuable and Bulky Offerings by Commissioners, Until Capacity of Their Carriage Is Exceeded and Extra Conveyance Is Secured to Transport Goods to Car.

THRONG OF MORE THAN 200,000 FOLLOWS PARTY

"Charmed" and "Fine," President Exclaims at Every Pause—Distances His Daughter, Miss Alice, and Takes Delight in Exhibits of a Military Nature, Which He Explains to Mrs. Roosevelt—Jokes About Missouri Catfish.

Presents by the wagon load were showered on President Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt and the President's daughter, Miss Alice, as they made their way this afternoon through the World's Fair exhibit palaces and the national pavilions.

They ranged from a pretentious framed painting, presented by Wong Kai Kah, the Chinese Imperial Commissioner-General, to tiny but costly baubles. There were jewels of Oriental extravagance of design and wonderful laces and fabrics and finely-wrought specimens of the skill of silversmiths.

Everywhere the presidential party went gifts were bestowed as expressions of the pride of the donors in the fact that the President had honored them with a visit.

It was not long until the President's carriage was overloaded. It was necessary to put a wagon into commission, which carried the presents direct to the President's car.

Guarded as never a President was guarded before by secret service men, soldiers, detectives, police and Jefferson Guards, the President has been seeing the Fair, while a crowd estimated at over 200,000, has surged hither and thither, like an unorganized army, bent on the conquest of a glimpse of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Alice.

All rules and restraints except those imposed by armed force were disregarded and beaten down. Such of the flower beds as remain were trampled, and the crowds charged back and forth across the grass plots and broke down the shrubbery.

The President is in a holiday mood and is having one of the times of his life. He is all animation and appreciation.

"FINE!" AND "CHARMED!"

"Fine, fine," he says of the Exposition sights which greet his eyes, and "charmed," and "so glad, so glad," are the expressions he uses when persons are introduced to him.

Everything interests him, and on everything he bestows generous and enthusiastic praise.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Roosevelt are enjoying the day not less than the President, and are not less animated or less reserved in their expression of admiration and appreciation.

An incident which showed the rollicking humor of the President occurred in the Government building. A clerk was presented to him. "Ho!" he exclaimed, "you don't need to introduce Peters to me. We have fit and bled and died together."

The schedule printed in the Post-Dispatch was followed closely. It was unofficial, but proved to be accurate.

After going from the train to the Liberal Arts building, the Government building was visited, a reception was held there and the president then reviewed the parade of troops from in front of the building.

The national pavilions were then visited, beginning with the German building and ending with the Japanese, and the party then went to the west pavilion for luncheon.

Leaving the west pavilion the party "did" the Agricultural building on the way to the Philippines, where they went to view the far-famed Igorrotes and other native tribes, and to see the Constabulary and Scouts drill.

The route then led to the Stadium that the President might watch the Carlisle-Haskell Indian football game for a few minutes, and then to the machinery and electricity buildings, the latter to afford a view of the cascades fireworks.

From 6:30 to 7:30 the party will rest at the home of H. Thompson, 4487 Lindell boulevard, and the party at the Tyrolean Alps will begin.

MRS. MAYBRICK'S FRIEND'S DEATH IS SUSPICIOUS

Mrs. Helen Densmore Dies Suddenly of Asthma. It Is Said, but Physician Called Before Death Refused a Certificate.

WOMAN WAS FRIEND OF FAMOUS CONVICT

Worked Fourteen Years for Mrs. Maybrick's Release and Brought Her Here as a Guest When Cause Triumphed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Mrs. Helen Densmore, wife of Emmet Densmore, a prominent Brooklyn manufacturer, died today, the cause of death being given as asthma. The physician who was called in the case shortly before her death has asked for an investigation because she had not previously been treated by a regular physician. Because he had not been called in at an earlier stage in the illness, the physician refused to enter a death certificate, and notified the coroner's office.

Dr. Densmore and wife founded the National Food Society of London and for the past 14 years they have been constant in their efforts on behalf of Mrs. Florence Maybrick, who was their guest after her arrival in this country after her release from the English prison. Mrs. Densmore was 71 years old.

Mrs. Maybrick was with Mrs. Densmore up to the time of death.

ROBERT BRECK DIES SUDDENLY

St. Louis Insurance Man, Found Unconscious by Wife. Expires Before Doctor Arrives.

Robert Breck, 41 years old, a well-known insurance dealer, with offices in the Century building, was found unconscious while in bed by his wife, at his residence in Woodlawn, Kirkwood, at 1 o'clock Saturday morning, and died before a physician could reach the house.

Deputy Coroner Jacob, when notified, summoned a jury to hold an inquest. Mr. Breck had been suffering from indigestion for several weeks. He had been taking prescriptions of his physician to induce sleep. Mr. Breck occupied rooms 846 and 847 of the Century building and had many friends among St. Louis business men.

WHERE YOU CAN SEE THE PRESIDENT AT THE WORLD'S FAIR THIS AFTERNOON

2:30 to 3:30—At Stadium, Aeronautic Concourse and Agricultural Building, exact order and time of visits not yet arranged.
3:25 to 4:50—Philippine Reservation, one hour and 25 minutes.
5 to 5:15—Machinery Building, 15 minutes.
5:20 to 5:40—Electricity Building.
5:45 to 6—Viewing fireworks display from Electricity Building.
6:30 to 7:30—At home of William H. Thompson, 4487 Lindell boulevard.
8 to 9:30—Dinner at Tyrolean Alps, one hour and a half.

LADIES IN PRESIDENT'S PARTY SHARE HONORS

The attention which is being accorded Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, the President's sister, is hardly less than is being given the President himself.

Miss Roosevelt has shown herself equally as popular as when she "dined" the World's Fair last May on her own account, as the guest of Miss Irene Catlin.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who is more of a stranger to St. Louisans, was received with especial kindness, and Mrs. Robinson was recognized as the counterpart of the President himself.

Mrs. Roosevelt was dressed in a neat suit of blue with blue hat and dotted blue veil to match. Miss Alice has, however, discarded the long veil which became so familiar a picture last spring. She wore a costume of the "new" red, with hat of the same color and red and light feathers.

Mrs. Robinson came very near completing the national flag colors in the colors of the three dresses. Hers was a light gray, which in the sun shone white, and as the three stood together the crowd remarked upon the red, white and blue.

Mrs. Robinson is very much like the President. While other women were standing about her on the reviewing stand in front of the Government building she was moving about shaking hands and laughing and talking, with the same impressive and positive manner as the President's. To Treasurer Thompson of the World's Fair, whose guests the President and his relatives are, Mrs. Robinson exclaimed enthusiastically as he came up while the troops were parading: "This is my good friend; how are you? I'm so glad to see you."

Mrs. Roosevelt warmly greeted Gen. S. B. M. Young, a retired army officer, who resides in Washington and is on intimate terms with the President's family.

When President and Mrs. Roosevelt, President Francis and Secretary Loeb took a carriage from the reviewing stand having Miss Roosevelt, Mrs. Loeb and Mayor and Mrs. Wells to follow in the next carriage, Miss Alice was tendered an ovation which lasted for some minutes by friends she made while on her visit here in May. World's Fair officials soldiers and others crowded around her and Miss Roosevelt seemed greatly pleased. She was escorted to the carriage by Mr. George Markham.

FAIR AND COOLER TODAY

Fair and continued cool weather is the prediction of the weather bureau forecaster for President's day.

The official forecast says: "Fair and continued cool tonight and Sunday, light fresh northerly winds." Temperature will reach a minimum of 35 degrees Saturday, and Sunday.

BONETTI'S SLAYER TO ASYLUM

Marce Emile Servien of French Village, Ill., who shot and killed Charles Bonetti, a saloonkeeper at Ninth and Morgan streets, July 2 last, will be taken to the State Insane Asylum at Farmington, Mo., Monday.

A jury in Judge Taylor's division of the Circuit Court found Servien insane Friday night, after a trial lasting through the day. Servien imagined that a party of Italians from St. Louis was persecuting the women of his village, and he entered Bonetti's saloon and shot him.

RECORD - BREAKING FAIR CROWD TRAMPLES ON THE RULES

This Is Probably the Best Picture of Mrs. Roosevelt Ever Printed in Any St. Louis Newspaper

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt

PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL DODGED THE TUNNEL

Comes Into St. Louis Before Daylight Over Merchants' Bridge and West Belt Line, Going Direct to World's Fair Grounds.

The President's special signal leads bridge tunnel and Union Station coming into St. Louis, and was brought in over Merchants' bridge and the west belt line, going direct to the World's Fair grounds. A small crowd who had anticipated the President's arrival met the train as it was taken into the World's Fair grounds. Eight policemen, under Sergt. McGuire, and 11 Jefferson Guards commanded by Sergt. Batchelder, formed a guard and patrol around the train when it was stopped.

The President's train reached Willow, a suburb five miles northeast of East St. Louis at 3:00 o'clock. A slow run was made thence to Merchants' bridge, 10 minutes behind Terminal Engine No. 128, acting as pilot.

At the west end of the bridge the train took the Washburn tracks leading over the west belt line for Forsythe Junction, where it was turned over to the Terminal officials.

A crowd at Union Station, not knowing of the plans, waited until daylight. Then it was learned that the President had been in St. Louis for several hours. The sleepy crowd departed.

In the President's train were the President's car, Signal, the sleeping car, Guiana, and the combination baggage and smoking car, Pontius. In the first were the President, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Secretary and Mrs. Loeb and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson of Washington.

The second car carried the secret service men, the President's valet, several clerks and the train crew.

Charles Sherwood, an old time engineer, who has on more than one occasion had charge of the President's train, was in charge of the engine from Terre Haute, where change of engines and crews were made, to St. Louis. F. H. Cleveland was fireman, John Wise had the train in charge as conductor.

The last stop at which the President appeared was at Terre Haute at 10:35 o'clock. There a large crowd surrounded the station and the President bowed and thanked them for their courtesy.

TRAIN PARKED WEST OF THE PALACE OF TRANSPORTATION

The arrival of the President's train at a much earlier hour than expected prevented demonstration or incident. The secret service men joined the patrolmen on the platforms and along the sides of the train. The members of the party could be seen moving about in the train. Preparations for breakfast were in progress.

Administration building employees, hurrying to the Administration building, stopped a moment to look at the train and then passed on.

Army officers were hurrying back and forth between the Administration building and the President's train.

In the quadrangle back of Administration building the horses of the cavalry officers and cavalrymen were being saddled, and there was the general stir of preparation.

Before 9 o'clock preparation had given place to readiness, and the tour of the grounds was begun with every detail attended to for the escort and protection of the President's party.

For diamonds, watches or jewelry it will pay you to call at Dunn's, 912 Franklin avenue. Prices lower than elsewhere. All goods guaranteed.

VISITING GIRLS ARE MISSING

Police Are Asked to Aid in Finding Strangers Who Disappeared From Hotel.

The police are searching for two girls who disappeared from the Christian Endeavor Hotel near the World's Fair Wednesday morning shortly after registering there. Nothing has been seen of them since they left the hotel only a few minutes after arriving there.

The two girls reside in Harrison County, Ark., and came to St. Louis with an aged couple named Cleveland. The girls were told to go to a hotel as the Cleveland couple were going to visit a sick friend for a few days.

The elder of the two girls, Miss Aubrey Connell, is 17 years old and is a niece of a neighbor of Mr. Cleveland. The other girl is 15 years old and is a granddaughter of Mrs. Cleveland.

The police have no trace of the girls.

Mrs. Wanslow's Soothing Syrup is an unexcelled medicine for children while teething.

EMPEROR WILLIAM AS JUDGE.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. Nov. 25.—Bollia and Chilli have signed a peace treaty. The Emperor of Germany is named as arbitrator in any dispute that may arise under it. Bollia abandons her claim to a Pacific port and surrenders to Chilli the province of Antofagasta. Chilli assumes part of the debts of Bollia, as provided for in the treaty of 1882, and appropriates $10,000,000 for the construction of railroads in Bollia, which will become the property of Bollia in 20 years.

ON THE MARKET.

If horse and vehicles. Quickly you'd sell. Through Post-Dispatch want ads. Their worth you must tell.

WOMEN INDORSE PRESIDENT'S VIEWS

St. Louis Equality Club Commends Mr. Roosevelt's Introduction of Wagner's "Simple Life."

SEND LETTER TO EXECUTIVE

His Utterances in Favor of Women Getting Ballot Warmly Applauded.

The St. Louis Woman's Equality Club at its meeting Thanksgiving day sent a letter to the President formally thanking him for past utterances favorable to the suffrage of women.

The letter follows:

Thanksgiving Day, St. Louis, Nov. 24, 1904.—The St. Louis Woman's Equality Club to our honored and beloved President, Theodore Roosevelt: Remembering your open, outspoken sympathy in favor of equal rights for women during your incumbency as governor of New York, and feeling furthermore encouraged since reading your beautiful and noble introduction of Charles Wagner, we hope and trust that you will also give a position of your favorably to the appeal of many women who are asking our government for what is no more than justice. We ask to have the stigma removed which places us legally and socially on a par with criminals, idlers and sinners. The criminal stands, alas, even above the woman, inasmuch as his disfranchisement may eventually be removed through the pardoning power, but there is no hope for women, no matter how honorable and able they may be, under the present law. She may never hope to have a voice in making the laws which she must live.

The Rev. Charles Wagner in his Thanksgiving sermon, published today, as "A nation can be overthrown by a selfish pride in her own institutions and, like a man full of self-satisfaction, pay the Pharisee's prayer."

By these words we are reminded of the disrespect in which we are held by men, when we ask for equal rights and justice.

O Mr. President, there are thousands and thousands of men who look with favor and respect on your opinion. Will you not in some way as you think best, show them the initiative of keeping us in political subjection and depriving us of the rights of free citizenship? Mr. President, for the love and respect you bear for the mother who gave you life, for the love and respect for the woman who is the mother of your children, for the love and sympathy for your female dependents, for the glory of your country and your party and for the sake of justice, liberty and humanity, we beg that you will help us to obtain the right of franchise. Respectfully, ST. LOUIS EQUALITY CLUB.

LOUISE L. WERTH, President.

MANUEL E. MEAD, Secretary.

The letter was sent to the President in accordance with resolutions unanimously adopted by the club.

SHOOTING OF HICKEN A MYSTERY

Man Refuses to Tell How He Happened to Get Shot in the Head.

Michael Hicken of 1422 Cleary avenue is at the City hospital in a serious condition with a bullet wound in his head. The shooting is a mystery to the police.

Hicken was found by Sergt. Collins at 1:45 o'clock Saturday morning at the corner of Twenty-second street and Cass avenue almost unconscious. Collins was a block away when the shot was fired and when he reached the scene no other person was to be found.

Hicken refused to tell physicians at the hospital how he was shot.

Policeman Saves Man's Life.

Charles Hall of 327 East Grand avenue was saved from death by Patrolman James Wilson in a fire that partially destroyed the two-story building at that address at 1 o'clock Saturday morning.

The fire originated in a basement and quickly gained the first floor. Smoke filled the second floor and when the patrolman rushed upstairs he stumbled over the body of Hall, who had fallen unconscious after leaving his room and attempting to escape.

Russia Honors Negro Bishop.

MOSCOW, Nov. 25.—The Metropolitan of St. Petersburg has conferred a gold cross upon Robert Joseph Morgan, the American colored bishop, who has been visiting Moscow.

Fire in Photographic Store.

The supposed spontaneous combustion of chemicals in a photographic supply store caused a fire that partially destroyed two one-story buildings at 20 and 22 South Eleventh street all night Friday night. Chas. Geiger, photographer, at No. 20, suffered a loss to apparatus of $250, while William H. Hall, who had fallen unconscious after leaving his room and attempting to escape.

WRANGLING An Old Couple's Troubles.

There is an old couple of Hillsdale, Kansas, the husband 71 and the wife 67, who made a discovery late in life that would have saved lots of their troubles, something they learned about one day.

The gentleman says: "One day the doctor told me my wife's trouble was not heart disease but her stomach, but she thought he was mistaken. As I had read several statements in the papers about Postum Food Coffee my mind was soon made up, and it was in the Fall of 1901 that I got a package of Postum, asking my wife to try it."

"She said she did not believe it would help her, and so it was laid aside and she suffered all the winter drinking coffee all the time until about the first of May when she was in terrible distress."

"One night about our bed time she said she must have the doctor, but before you got 'ix a little Postum and will try it."

"So I prepared half a pint of Postum according to directions, and as soon as she drank it she felt warm and nourished all over and in a little while her pain was gone, it was like magic. For a few meals she used a little coffee and then a week later she began to feel better, and so finally she gave up coffee altogether and used Postum only. Better and better she got and grew stronger and finally all the old disease left."

"Since that time we have used nothing but Postum, nor have we had any occasion to call for the doctor since, and I now advocate Postum to everyone I meet."

Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

"So many people say: 'Coffee don't hurt,' and they tell you they 'know a man 70 years old who has drunk it all his life.' That doesn't prove that you can drink it. 'One man's meat is another's poison.' If coffee agrees and the drinker keeps well, stick to it, but if any kind of ailment or disease show, better heed the warning and quit coffee."

"There's a reason."

Look in each pkg. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Put a sample of Postum and Postum at Super 100 Agricultural Bldg., one of the best places to be seen at the Fair Grounds. All are invited.

This Picture Is a Reproduction of the Latest and Best Photograph of the President

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

"I AM THE PRESIDENT OF ALL AMERICANS."

—President Roosevelt.

In Car Platform Speech En Route to St. Louis, He Said He Would Do "All That Is in Him" to Show That No Mistake Was Made on Nov. 8— "What About Missouri?" He Asks Delightedly.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 24.—President Roosevelt's journey from Pittsburgh to this city, which was reached at 10:30 last night, was marked by numerous stops and frequent short speeches to railroad platform crowds.

Notwithstanding that midnight was the published time of the arrival in Indianapolis, a large crowd assembled at Union Station and gave the President an enthusiastic greeting as the train drew in at 8 o'clock. The special remained in the train shed for 10 minutes. President Roosevelt stood upon the observation car platform, bowing to the people.

When the applause had subsided the President expressed his pleasure at being able once more to visit Indianapolis, saying, among other things:

"I have always thought a great deal of Indiana, and I now have reason to think more of her than ever. I thank you all for coming out here to see me, and I assure you that I appreciate it."

"What is the matter with Ohio?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones."

Leaving over the rail, the President asked: "What's the matter with Missouri?"

"What's the matter with Missouri?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are

THIS DEBUTANTE HAD MANY TRIALS

But Despite Constables, Attachments and Troublesome Modiste, She Was Delightfully Gowned.

A SUIT FILED FOR DAMAGES

The First Dresses Did Not Fit and Were Not Paid for, Hence Trouble.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 26.—One of the most beautifully gowned young women at the Harmony Circle's ball last night was Miss Lesser, who, with her mother, Mrs. Anna R. Lesser, came all the way from their home in Augusta, Ga., to attend the ball. Miss Lesser was a charming debutante in the bouquet of debutantes who made their first bow at the ball. Mrs. Lesser and her daughter are stopping at the Belvedere and have been receiving much attention. Thus a society reporter might have written of Mrs. and Miss Lesser and the last six words would have been as true as the rest. But that some of the attention they received was most disagreeable is proven by a bill which Mrs. Lesser filed in the Superior court today and which she claims $25.00 damages from Miss Belle Fueschl, a fashionable dressmaker here.

According to this interesting bill, Mrs. Lesser and her daughter ordered five gowns, to cost $500, from Miss Fueschl some time ago.

Mrs. Lesser would not accept the gowns; they did not fit, she said. She ordered an elaborate dress for her daughter to wear at the Harmony Hall from another Baltimore modiste. It was written in the bill that "to mortify, disappoint and distress" Mrs. Lesser, Miss Fueschl, "well knowing that Mrs. Lesser and her husband were abundantly able to satisfy her alleged claim, sent divers deputy sheriffs to seize the aforesaid gown while in the hands of the modiste, to prevent Mrs. and Miss Lesser from attending the ball."

These sheriff's threatened the modiste with imprisonment "and other pains and damages" if she did not let them attach the ball dress to satisfy Miss Fueschl's claim. But the brave dressmaker, Miss Fueschl's rival, vowed she would send the gown to the Belvedere in time for Mrs. Lesser to wear it to the ball, despite all the "pains and damages" on which whereupon the deputies betook themselves to the hotel, and with rudeness and demonstrations, "and to grieve and vex" Mrs. Lesser and her daughter, "conspicuously remained in the public lobby and loudly announced that they would seize the gown."

Mrs. Lesser states pathetically that she was compelled to have the gown intercepted, and to have it taken elsewhere. She and her daughter were obliged to leave the hotel "through the basement by

EXTRA POLICEMEN MAY BE RETAINED

Commissioners Will Decide as to Special World's Fair Detail at Friday's Meeting.

Next Friday, at a meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners, the disposition of the 500 extra policemen who were employed by the city at the opening of the World's Fair will be definitely settled.

Some of the members favor retaining all of them for three months. In this event an additional appropriation for salaries would have to be made. It is planned to permanently retain about 150 of the men and promote them to be patrolmen; selection will be made from among those who have performed best service during the fair period.

At Friday's meeting of the board charges of conduct unbecoming an officer against Patrolman Patrick Harrington of the World's Fair district were dismissed without prejudice. William L. Sullivan and Matthew Johnson of the Tenth district were fined $20 and $25 respectively on charges of entering a saloon and intoxication.

An unfrequented passage, to escape molestation by the police, and to go elsewhere and dress for the ball. Miss Fueschl, through her counsel, answers that the attachment proceedings were carried on quietly in the usual way and without any publicity. And the fact remains that, despite difficulties almost insuperable, in the face of most humiliating "attention," Mrs. Lesser and her daughter went to the ball, and Miss Lesser, "one of the most beautifully gowned young women there," was a charming bud in the bouquet of debutantes.

Long coats, overcoats and stylish suits at prices to suit your pocket. Dunn's, 915 Franklin avenue.

MILLERS TO EAT TURKEY.

An old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner will be served members of the St. Louis Millers' Club at their regular meeting, to be held Monday evening at the Mercantile Club rooms. Several short addresses will be made. Alex H. Smith, president of the club and P. H. Litchfield is secretary.

TELL THE PEOPLE.

If horses and vehicles.

Quickly you'd sell.

Through Post-Dispatch want ads.

Their worth you must tell.

TELEGRAPHER ENDS LIFE.

Dispatches from Columbus, O., state that C. W. Bowie, a telegraph operator, who gave his residence as St. Louis, ended his life in his room in that city Friday by inhaling gas. It is stated that he became dependent over a failure to receive money which he expected.

KIPLING SENDS BATES A PLAY

It Is "The Woman Who Wouldn't," and May Be Produced Here Next Week.

Miss Blanche Bates yesterday received at the Imperial Theater a manuscript of a three-act play by Rudyard Kipling entitled "The Woman Who Wouldn't." The piece has been in preparation for the past six months. Although Miss Bates had an intuition that Mr. Kipling was writing a play, of which she would be accorded the first reading, she was quite surprised to receive it yesterday, as she did not believe the play would be completed for another year.

Mr. Kipling's play is not the piece in which Miss Bates will make her New York premier next season. That play is already in preparation by Mr. Belasco, who spends one year in writing a play and another in producing it.

"The Woman Who Wouldn't" will be added to Miss Bates' repertoire with "Hedda Gabler," "Madame Butterfly" and a Danish piece which is now being translated for the talented actress. Mr. Kipling's play will probably be combined in a double bill with "Madame Butterfly" as curtain raiser, as the Kipling piece consists of three rather short acts and does not run quite two hours.

Miss Bates is going to make a heroic attempt to produce "The Woman Who Wouldn't" in this city before the end of her engagement Saturday evening, Dec. 3. She is not at all sure, however, that there is sufficient time to do this and to do it properly. Under any circumstances, the closing performances of Miss Bates and her company Saturday matinee and Saturday evening, Dec. 3, will consist of a triple bill, including the third act from "The Darling of the Gods," showing the torture chamber scene, "My Aunt's Advice" and "Madame Butterfly."

Grace George is to leave the cast of "The Two Orphans" after Christmas week. So says her husband, William A. Brady. Mr. Brady said to the Post-Dispatch this week: "I have a play for my wife. It is called 'Abigail,' but I think the title will be changed. It is the story of a typical western girl thrown among queer Yankees in a New England boarding house. We are at work on the production now, and my wife will open with the piece the first of the year." Mr. Brady thinks the role of Louise in "The Two Orphans" gives his wife very little opportunity to develop her dramatic powers, and he has threatened several times to withdraw her from the

EX-POLICE CAPTAIN BOYD REINSTATED

Board of Commissioners Notifies Him He Is Reinstated at Fourth District Station.

Samuel J. Boyd, police captain, formerly in charge of the Fourth district, who has been under suspension for 13 months pending the trial of the charges of naturalization frauds in his district, resumes his title of captain Saturday and takes command of the Carondelet district, 731 Pennsylvania avenue.

The Board of Police Commissioners notified Boyd Friday that he had been reinstated and that he would take his new command at once. In addition, the reinstatement means that Boyd will receive $200, a captain's pay, for each of the 13 months he has been under suspension.

Charges are still pending against Boyd in both the federal and state courts. Twelve indictments were returned by the federal court against him in connection with naturalization frauds. At the same time "Long John" Dolan, William Garrett and Thomas E. Barrett were indicted, have been tried and convicted. Boyd's case has been called many times by the federal court, but the government has been continued from time to time. The action of the board would indicate that the members do not believe he is guilty.

Boyd was indicted shortly after the federal indictments were returned, and after he had been suspended by a state grand jury, on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the United States. The Court of Criminal Appeals in St. Louis, however, but an appeal was taken by the state and the case now awaits a Supreme court decision.

Boyd was transferred to the Second, Erie and Third districts, but he has been in command of the First, or Carondelet district, since he was reinstated. He is now in command of the Second and will continue to serve in his present capacity.

When Miss Laura Burt arrives in St. Louis tomorrow morning to become the leading woman of the Odeon stock company, she will have broken the record for quick time changing from an English girl to an American company. A week ago last Friday Miss Burt was playing with Sir Henry Irving's company in Glasgow, Scotland. She received a cable from Mr. Will Rogers, the new company, offering her the Odeon engagement. She accepted by cable, and announced that she would sail from Liverpool on the Baltic a week ago last night, which she did, arriving in New York Friday. She is now in St. Louis, where she will arrive in St. Louis Sunday morning. She has studied her part on the way over.

Mr. Burton Holmes' "Travelogue" begins next week, Thursday night, Dec. 1, at 8 o'clock. A hall, Grand and Olive avenues. They are among the delightful educational amusements which St. Louisans appreciate more and more each year. There is only one regret, that the hall this season is not larger.

The German stock company has been rehearsing "Fallenberg" (Fallenberg) one of the strongest of the latter-day sensational dramas, for production tomorrow night. The interest always at high pitch is sustained from curtain to curtain. There is ample chance for fine character delineation by the artists who make up their specialty.

One of the realistic scenes in "When Women Love," which will be at Havlin's next week, is the trial scene in which an innocent young girl is accused of killing her uncle and who would have been convicted but for the startling evidence given by the Columbia graphophone, upon which a conversation held in the room, recorded by the villains, which is repeated at the trial in their natural voices. The audience is held spellbound while the machine gives its evidence.

Coming to the Columbia next week: Clayton White and Marie Stuart, Kitamura Jan, Rourke Rooney, George Trechins, Howe and Scott, Billy Carter, Zelma Rawlston, Three Mitchell, Fred and Annie Pelot, Curtis and Adams, Astell and Early, Pattie Brown and the Kinodrome.

To those theatergoers who enjoy good, wholesome fun, the luxury of a good hearty laugh, with plenty of catchy music, much is promised for Leslie and Dolly in "Paris by Night," which comes to the Grand Opera House next week, beginning Sunday matinee, for a week's engagement. The piece comes to this city after a three months' stay at the Madison Square Garden, New York. The comedy is in two acts. The cast numbers over 50 people, including a half dozen comedians, headed by Leslie and Robert Dolly, while there is a chorus of over 20 girls. The production was staged under the supervision of Sol Madge Lawrence plays the principal female part.

For the coming week at the new Star Theater "Michael Strogoff" is announced, opening with a matinee tomorrow afternoon.

William Collier (it used to be Willis) will be seen in the Richard Harding Davis farce, "The Dictator," at the Century Theater tomorrow. His engagement is for seven nights, with Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Most excellent reports of "The Dictator" have been received here, and there seems to be very little reason to doubt but that the farce is true. It is claimed that the farce is one of the brightest and funniest that has been seen in a long time, and that in it Collier has unusual opportunities to display the peculiar methods of the Japanese. There has been a very active demand for seats for this engagement. Charles Frohman, who is now Mr. Collier's manager, produced this play last season at the Criterion Theater, New York city, where it ran for over five months. Mr. Collier promised an excellent supporting company.

Little Dorothy Gish, clever child actress, who plays one of the leading roles in "Her First Pulse Stop," which appears at the Crawford next week, is one of the few Americans with any blood relations at the front in the Russo-Japanese war. Her uncle settled in Tokio in the early seventies in the silk-weaving business, and being attracted the attention of the Japanese court, he married a Japanese lady of rank, by whom he had two sons. The oldest one, who was educated at West Point, at the expense of the Japanese government, and is now with Marshall Oyama the leader of the Japanese forces, holding the rank of captain of the First signal corps. Dorothy's mother has received several letters from him, which are quite interesting, being direct from the seat of war. In one of them he expresses his opinions of the one of them come of the struggle. He says, although the Japanese have gained many victories, though at a great cost of life, he thinks the Russians will eventually win by their superior force of numbers. The Japanese have one great advantage, as they are fighting over much the same ground as they did in the Chinese war, and they know the country thoroughly. Little Dorothy very proudly displays a very handsome mail of the Japanese arms and national flag of Japan which the captain sent her.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes.

Athletic Club Buys Wine. The Missouri Athletic Club has purchased all the wines in the California exhibit in the Palace of Agriculture at the World's Fair. The exhibit included 20 cases of 25 varieties of wines.

President Roosevelt Day WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS TODAY (SATURDAY)

IN HONOR OF THE PRESIDENT'S VISIT.
TWO GREAT SPECIAL FEATURES
Have been arranged by the Exposition Management for this occasion.

First Event -- Championship Football Game

2:45 P. M. THE EAST AGAINST THE WEST
CARLISLE VS. HASKELL
(INDIANS) (INDIANS)

President Roosevelt and party will witness the kickoff. East entrance of Stadium open at 2 p. m. This will be the most exciting football game ever witnessed in St. Louis.

SECOND EVENT, 5:45 P. M.---Pain's Grandest Pyrotechnical Illumination, Cascades, Festival Hall and Lagoon

THE MASTER-STROKE OF THE GREAT FIREWORKS KING.

PUBLICATIONS.

Is the World Growing Better?

By Henry van Dyke

There are a few men who would not be presuming in answering this question. Henry van Dyke, preacher, educator, humanitarian, man of letters, treats this question clearly, frankly, truly, in the December number of EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE.

As back numbers of EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE are out of print, the previous chapters of Mr. Lawson's "Frenzied Finance," contained in the numbers from July to November inclusive, are republished in a pamphlet, at 25 cents a copy. This pamphlet (eighty pages) will be sent free to any new subscriber to EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE who requests it and who sends one dollar for a year's subscription beginning with the December number. Address The Ridgway-Taney Company, Union Square, New York City.

Everybody's Magazine

FOR DECEMBER. JUST OUT
On all news stands.

Everybody's Magazine wants canvassers. Write for terms.

Nearly Two Hundred Women and Girls

Will apply for employment by advertising in the great

Sunday Post-Dispatch

=WANT= DIRECTORY

If you desire the services of a woman or girl, will you kindly consider these applications?

SEALED PROPOSALS.

GRADING.—Proposals will be received by the undersigned until Monday, Nov. 28, 12 o'clock, on about 50,000 cubic yards of grading near O'Fallon Park; average haul 200 feet; deposit required $200. See specifications and profiles at office of Pittman & Co. of Surveyors and Engineers, 615 Chestnut st.

AMUSEMENTS.

COLUMBIA

Sixth and St. Charles Sts.
ALL THIS WEEK AND NEXT SUNDAY.
McIntyre & Heath. Spenser's Bears.
Grace Fabela & Mabel. "Crisis" and "Son."
Frank & Jennie. "Crisis" and "Son."
Leta. "Crisis" and "Son."
Saul & Keaton. "Crisis" and "Son."
Mitchell & Love. "Crisis" and "Son."
Robert & West. "Crisis" and "Son."
15c, 30c, 50c; Orchestra Chairs, Reserved, 75c.
Next Sun. Mat.—"When Women Love."
Next Sat. Mat.—"When Women Love."

HAVLIN'S

25c Mat. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.
Night Prices, 15c, 25c, 35c, 50c—No Higher.
25c Mat. JAS. J. CORBETT. PALE
Next Sun. Mat.—"When Women Love."
Next Sat. Mat.—"When Women Love."

TONIGHT AT 8

IMPERIAL Saturday Mat. at 2.

Tenth and Pine. 17th Time Here.

BLANCHE BATES

IN THE DARLING OF THE GODS,
A Drama of Old Japan by David Belasco.
In the Palace of the Gods, by David Belasco.
Price from 50c to $1.50. Good Lower Floor.
Next Sun. Mat. 50c. Seats on sale for next week.

LARGEST AND HANDSOMEST RESTAURANT IN ST. LOUIS
 Three large separate Dining Rooms and several smaller rooms for Private Dinner Parties.
 Music by Vogel's Orchestra every evening.

TAKE A TRIP ON THE GREAT MISSISSIPPI RIVER
 See the Red Bridge, St. Louis River Front and Jefferson Barracks.

THE MAMMOTH EXCURSION STEAMER "CITY OF PROVIDENCE"
 Leaves Daily at 10:00 A. M. Returns at 5:00 P. M.
 Leaves Daily at 2:00 P. M. Returns at 5:00 P. M.
 ROUND TRIP TICKETS, 25 CENTS.
 Boat leaves from foot of Olive street. Phone: Main 1254, Kinloch A 155.

AMUSEMENTS.

AMUSEMENTS.

WILD, SAVAGE ANIMALS ON THE PIKE

The Center of AMUSEMENT, EDUCATION and REFINED PLEASURE

ON THE PIKE HAGENBECK'S ZOOLOGICAL PARADISE and TRAINED ANIMAL CIRCUS!

A WHOLE LIFE OF WONDEROUS ACTS IN EACH PERFORMANCE

The Jungles of Asia, Africa and Other Continents Add Their Denizens to the Show.
 800 WILD ANIMALS IN THIS MARVELOUS PARADISE.
 ADMISSION 50c; CHILDREN 25c.

ODEON THEATER

GRAND AND FINNEY. Downtown Ticket Office, Judge & Mat. Sat. and Sun. Every Evening 8:30.

KIRALFY'S LOUISIANA PURCHASE SPECTACLE

500 FIRST FLOOR SEATS, 50 CENTS. MATINEE PRICES, 25c AND 50c.

Y. M. C. A. HALL FRANKLIN AVE.

BURTON HOLMES

Magnificently Illustrated Travelogue. Three Thursday Evenings at 8:15. IN LONDON.....Dec. 1. IRELAND.....Dec. 8. JAPAN.....Dec. 15. Reserved Seats $1.75c & 50c. At Bollman's, 1129 Olive.

NOW ON SALE

STAR THEATER—Jefferson and

Worth 30c—This Coupon and 30c will admit 2 ladies of lady and gentlemen. BEST SEATS Tonight, 11:00. Tonight—NORTHERN LIGHTS—10c, 25c, 50c. Special 10c and 50c Mat. Saturday. Next Sunday—MICHAEL STROGOFF.

GRAND MAT. TODAY,

Night Prices—25c, 35c, 50c, 75c, 1.00. 45 PEOPLE. BUSY SIDNEY. 20 MUSICAL. IZZY. Next Sun. Mat.—PARIS BY NIGHT.

CRAWFORD THEATER 14th and

The Season's Dramatic Success. "THOU SHALT NOT KILL." Mr. George S. Trumble and Miss Franka Gals. Copyrighted Serial Production. 25c Mat. Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, 50c. NEXT—HER FIRST FAULT STEP.

OLYMPIC LAST MAT. TODAY AT 2.

LAST PERFORMANCE TONIGHT AT 8. KLAU & ERLANGER CO. (Inc.) GEN. LEW WALLACE'S

BEN-HUR

Dramatized by William Young. Music by Edgar Gillman Kelly. 350 PEOPLE—350. PRICES 50c, 75c, 1.00 and 1.50. NEXT WEEK—COMMENCING MONDAY. Seats Ready and on Sale Now. Regular Wednesday and Saturday Matinees.

VIOLA ALLEN

As HERMIONE and PERDITA in THE WINTER'S TALE. With Notable Company and Production.

CENTURY. Last Matinee

LAST TIME TONIGHT. The Greatest Cast Ever Organized for a Season's Tour. Nine Famous Stage Favorites. The Fabulous Salome. JAMES O'NEILL. GRACE GEORGE. LOUIE JAMES. J. E. DODSON. JAMESON LEE FINNEY. MRS. LE MOYNE. CLARA MORRIS. SARAH TRUAX. ELITA PROCTOR OTIS. Will present the New York revival of "THE TWO ORPHANS." (Lieber & Co. Managers.) Plenty of Good Seats for All Performances.

Beginning with Matinee

NEXT SUNDAY Charles Frohman will present WILLIAM COLLIER In Richard Harding Davis' Farce "THE DICTATOR." SEATS NOW ON SALE.

The Christmas CENTURY

A SUPERBLY ILLUSTRATED NUMBER

REPRODUCTIONS IN FULL COLOR FIVE CHRISTMAS STORIES

of Great Paintings by George Inness and Winslow Homer; color drawings by Maxfield Parrish, W. L. Jacobs, Bruce Horsfall, Anna Whelan Betts, and Maurice Boutet de Monvel; exquisite illustrations of Three Preludes of Chopin by Sigismond Ivanowski, in tint.

by Ruth McEnery Stuart, John Luther Long, and others, with "Kerrigan's Christmas Sermon" by L. Frank Tooker; Frank M. Chapman's wonderfully illustrated article "A Flamingo City," a novel contribution to natural history; "The New Method of Purifying Water," etc.

FIRST CHAPTERS OF THE NEW SERIAL NOVEL

"SANDY"

BY THE AUTHOR OF "MRS. WIGGS"

Illustrated by W. L. JACOBS. To continue for six months.

OPENING ARTICLE IN

AMBASSADOR WHITE'S STORY OF HIS GERMAN MISSION, 1897-1902

With especial reference to the personality of the German Emperor.

SERIAL NOVELS IN 1905

By MRS. HUMPHRY WARD By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN

By ALICE HEGAN RICE, THE AUTHOR OF "MRS. WIGGS"

SHORT STORIES BY

Rudyard Kipling, Ruth McEnery Stuart, Irving Bacheller, Anthony Hope, Joel Chandler Harris, Herbert D. Ward, Marion Crawford, Edna Phillips, E. W. Townsend, Jack London, Julian Hawthorne, John Luther Long, Owen Wise, John Luther Long, Elizabeth Robins, Cousiness Morris, Myra Kelly, Miss Michelson and many others

ARTICLES ON GREAT INVENTIONS WRITTEN BY THE INVENTORS

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS DESCRIBED BY ITS MANAGER

ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON FAMOUS NEW PUBLIC BUILDINGS

BUY THE CHRISTMAS NUMBER, or—subscribe for A YEAR beginning with December, 1904, and let us send you the NOVEMBER NUMBER FREE,—beginning the volume. $4.00 a year.

The Century Co., Union Square, New York

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER. Published by THE PULITZER PUBLISHING CO., 210-212 N. BROADWAY.

AVERAGE CIRCULATION

First TEN MONTHS 1904

SUNDAY
227,243

DAILY
149,642

20,000 MORE POST-DISPATCHES ARE SOLD IN ST. LOUIS EVERY DAY THAN THERE ARE HOMES IN THE CITY.

BIGGEST WEST OF THE MISSISSIPPI

Hoch der Praesident!

Events indicate that the wrong men were deported from Colorado.

Will clerical errors rank in future with the statute of limitations as the boulder's shield?

Czar Nicholas should remember Louis XVI and the Czarina should not forget Marie Antoinette.

The greatest Exposition—surpassing both past and future expositions—is about to close. Get there, Eli!

THE PRESIDENT AND THE FAIR.

President Roosevelt's visit to the Fair is the culmination of a long series of impressive events, and crowns one of the greatest and most successful national works ever undertaken in this country. His visit has a special interest, because he is the first Republican candidate for the presidency that has carried Missouri for 32 years. St. Louis today is the capital of the United States not only because the President is here, but because the Fair gathers all the threads of national interest and weaves them into a splendid texture of achievement in which the full scope of American intelligence and industry is exhibited.

The Fair was made by St. Louisans; but the work was possible only because the whole country co-operated. It is, therefore, gratifying to St. Louis and Missouri that, in the last week of the Exposition, the President comes to give a benediction, so to speak, to an achievement so essentially characteristic of his country and which represents a work in harmony with his own aspirations, enthusiasms and love of achievement.

Liberty to create a row in parliament is one of the liberties which Hungarians have won. By and by, it may be, they will win others more essential to social and individual well being.

IMPROVE THE SUBURBAN SERVICE.

With the close of the World's Fair it will be necessary for all who are interested in the progress of St. Louis to devote their efforts to the furthering of local improvements, in order that what has been gained by the holding of the great Exposition may not only be retained, but that the city may grow and prosper as its position and importance demand.

One of the improvements needed, in order to insure this advance in growth and prosperity, is attention to that part of the city's transportation problem which is covered by the "local" train service.

Post-Dispatch readers who have suffered from the disorganized condition of this service express themselves as extremely gratified that public attention is being called to the need for improvement. It is agreed that the neglect on the part of the railway managers has been gross. No other city of the size and commercial standing of St. Louis has such an inadequate suburban train service. No other city has more attractive suburbs within a radius of 20 miles of its Union Station. And in no other city are the people less benefited by the existence of the sweet and wholesome country places within easy distance.

Secretary Shaw has described his financial duties as "a jackass load." Our extravagant expenditures are not making the load any lighter.

A VERY GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

The possibilities of founding a great museum from collections made at the ending of the World's Fair have already been grasped, but they are really greater than the mind is easily able to take hold on.

For instance, what a series of chapters in the history of the earth as a planet is contained in the immense variety of products exhibited from the great mountain chain which stretches from Alaska to the Klondike territory to Terra del Fuego.

The products of the earth, the arts from the beginning in the rudest work of primitive man to the latest and highest; the vegetable and animal life of the earth as a whole, may all be illustrated from the World's Fair collections, if not in completeness, yet with such widely-reaching suggestion of the whole that there is an opportunity now present and urgent to establish in St. Louis what may easily become in the future one of the greatest museums of the world.

In its permanent influences, the work may be not less important than that of the Fair itself. The opportunity is very great. The effort to realize it should be equal to the opportunity itself.

The premier of Canada is a better American than many a native of the United States. He came to the American World's Fair.

SOME BACCALAUREATE WISDOM.

"Every woman teacher married means another henpecked husband. After governing children, married she must be the boss."

So says Mr. Henry A. Wise, assistant superintendent of the Baltimore schools.

The wisdom of this oracular saying will be acknowledged by everybody because Mr. Wise is a bachelor. It is notorious that bachelors are the best authorities on matters matrimonial. And the reason is on the surface. Having no experience, they have no prejudices. They are absolutely disinterested. Not one of them is a judge in his own cause. The first condition of understanding is inexperience, for understanding can be clear only when there is no alloy of personal preferences, disappointments or triumphs.

Nevertheless, Mr. Wise's wise warning will not diminish the supply of henpecked husbands. The woman teacher is the same in temper before marriage as afterward, as Mr. Wise points out. She is fetching before marriage, and the poor man succumbs quite naturally. Then he discovers that this very quality of being fetching is only the prenuptial form of bossiness. The discovery comes too late, however; there is no escape.

All of which proves that baccalaureate wisdom, invincible as it is, brings no good in its train, and can be ignored, as indeed it will be, by all people about to marry. Wisdom has no charms compared to those of a fetching woman.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

OUR CLEAR CITY WATER.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Why not propose a loving cup for Mr. Ben C. Adkins, who has done wonders for St. Louis people in clearing our city water, and how few seem to appreciate it. I certainly believe if any man is deserving of a loving cup, it is Mr. Adkins. Why? Because there is not one person in St. Louis who has not been benefited by his work. A WOMAN.

THE EVICTED SQUATTERS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Your correspondent "Festina Lente" seems unable to grasp that the only ownership of land should be of same. The party who dispossesses the present users of land, which he seems to think he needs more than the present users, is a party who wastes far on a failing of the present users, the biding of the product of the dispossessed. The dispossessed with added brain are unable to see their rights and consequently suffer the wrong of dispossession.

P. S.—An American philosopher, whom the Duke of Carlisle made famous, has the key to the above problem.

MISSOURI AND THE INAUGURATION.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
As the anniversary of the late campaign has all, apparently, died away, it will not be amiss, I hope, to call attention to the fact that Missouri as a state has never been represented at an inauguration of a President. The logic of events in the near past makes one naturally assume that she will not let another ceremony of this kind go by without being in line. It would seem very strange, and altogether at variance with her claims of wealth and prominence, if Missouri—imperial Missouri—should say such a thing.

One regiment (a personal regiment) made up of her citizens solely selected for discipline, training and efficiency at drill, could be sent to represent her in that, the greatest gathering of the nation. Surely, rich Missouri is not going to set up the plea of poverty on such an occasion.

CONDUCTORS AND MOTORMEN.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
In regard to a letter to the Post-Dispatch in Wednesday's paper signed "Charles Moore" to beg leave to say a few words in your valuable columns. When he says, "Let all the factories and stores and everybody else have a half holiday except the conductors and motormen," does he mean that they are not as deserving of a holiday as the rest of the people, or does he mean that the other classes could not get out to the Fair very well without the aid of those men? If he meant the latter, and suggested having a holiday for them at another time, it would sound better, and also show that he was kind, thoughtful and considerate. There was no opportunity for the conductors and motormen to have a holiday during the Fair, and I'm sure they appreciate a little rest the same as other men. As long as the majority of people depend on them to be on duty when they are enjoying their outings and holidays, they ought to be thought of in the case of a general holiday and not give people the impression that they are not deserving of any consideration, or not human enough to appreciate a little thought in their respect.

THE MAN WITH A MISSION.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
The election just past teaches its lesson alike to Democrats and Republicans. The lesson is that mere issues of themselves do not inspire sufficient enthusiasm to pull the party vote. We need a leader of heroic determination, one whose magnetic spirit and brilliant energy give themselves the source of inspiration. We need a man for leader whose unfaltering faith in himself inspires the multitude. The ego must predominate, and about him there must be the atmosphere of aggressive "self." He must be imbued with the idea that he has a mission from the highest source, and that he is called to fulfill it. He must be a man of high character, with a high sense of duty, and a high sense of responsibility. He must be a man of high intelligence, and a high sense of humor. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of adventure. He must be a man of high courage, and a high sense of sacrifice. He must be a man of high faith, and a high sense of hope. He must be a man of high love, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high wisdom, and a high sense of justice. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of high self-control, and a high sense of discipline. He must be a man of high strength, and a high sense of courage. He must be a man of high endurance, and a high sense of perseverance. He must be a man of high energy, and a high sense of activity. He must be a man of high power, and a high sense of authority. He must be a man of high glory, and a high sense of honor. He must be a man of high fame, and a high sense of respect. He must be a man of high honor, and a high sense of dignity. He must be a man of high nobility, and a high sense of grace. He must be a man of high beauty, and a high sense of charm. He must be a man of high goodness, and a high sense of virtue. He must be a man of high truth, and a high sense of honesty. He must be a man of high justice, and a high sense of equity. He must be a man of high mercy, and a high sense of compassion. He must be a man of high kindness, and a high sense of gentleness. He must be a man of high patience, and a high sense of forbearance. He must be a man of

My Own.

The vision glorious came to me,
Her form and face alike divine,
And instantly I urged my plea,
And in my soul I vowed that she Should always and for aye be mine.

Strange emotions swept me thro' and thro',
My heart leaped up. Speech utter failed!
The vision then was real, I knew,
My love was right before my view—
Hope had triumphantly prevailed.

I folded her within my arms,
And kissed her more than twenty times.
What was I to resist her charms?
And she—she uttered no alarms;
And I—I thought they were not crimes.

I bent entranced above her eyes
That twinkled in a strangely light,
She gave no least sign of surprise
At my enthusiastic cries,
I uttered on that blessed night.

The earth became a Paradise.
I soared to heights delectable.
I felt a joy that never comes twice;
Like death, it seals all earthly choice—
The final and effectual.

Nor cared I then for pipe and dance,
Or pleasures that mere worldlings know.
The raptures one feels in a trance
Could not be thought a circumstance,
As we rocked gently to and fro.

Some souls will never know all this,
Nor pride with which I hourly sought her;
They cannot understand the kiss,
Which to me was earth's purest bliss—
She was my baby daughter.

St. Louis. GEORGE LELOY.

Plants That Imitate.

From Newark News.
A naturalist looked up from the piece of toadstool he was studying.

"We find imitation," he said, "in men, in animals, in insects, even in plants. This toadstool here imitates in its coloring and its stem another, a deadly growth, which no living thing will eat because its flesh is poisonous. Hence, imitating its dangerous cousin, the toadstool lives a safe and unmolested life.

"There are other instances of imitation in plants. The white nettle, having no defense of its own, imitates the stinging nettle, whose spines will defend it. The yellow bugle of the Riviera imitates the eu-phorbia, which exudes an acid juice that keeps off insects, too.

"The fly agaric, a violent poison, is imitated by the harmless balanophora, volu-crata. The latter reproduces quite exactly the former's dotted warts, scarlet cap and white stem. No creature will go near the fly agaric. None, either, will go near the balanophora."

Molasses Taffy.

Pour into a deep, round-bottomed kettle two large cups of the best New Orleans molasses, one cup of granulated sugar, two tablespoonsful of vinegar and two table-spoonsful of butter measured level. Cook until the mixture "spins a hair," that is, make fine brittle threads as it drops. Then

Willie Wise

Gene Carr's Brainy Kid Doesn't Know How Good Pie Is.

THE NEW BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

Successful Negroes.

"Tuskagee and Its People," the book which was announced by D. Appleton & Co. last fall and has been hanging fire ever since, will really appear next spring, the publishers say. The book has been difficult to gather together and publish on account of its multiplicity of authors. It will contain a comprehensive introduction by Booker T. Washington, a chapter on the ideals and achievements of the institute, by Emmett J. Scott, Mr. Washington's executive secretary; a chapter by Mrs. Washington on the teaching of girls, and a chapter on the resources and material equipment of the school by Warren Logan, the treasurer of the school. These will be supplemented by autobiographical chapters by former students of the school who have been successful in various callings, each telling his story in his own way. These chapters taken at random comprise the story of a teacher, a clergyman, a trained nurse, an architect, a builder, a contractor, a farmer, a cotton grower, a dairyman, a brick mason and a carpenter.

Rescuing the Eye.

Ophthalmists believe that Dr. Stephen Smith, surgeon to the eye department of Battersea Park Hospital, Nottingham, England, has discovered a new treatment of the eye which will practically abolish spectacles.
It is styled "manipulation of the eye," and is gentle and gradual, occupying a few minutes daily, causing no pain and having no injurious effect of any sort. Some patients are cured in a week, and in all cases improvement is rapid. Thirty patients who had been obliged to wear spectacles for a long time have so been treated by Dr.
Smith, and with a single exception, all have discarded glasses and can see clearly at either long or short distances, as well as people who have never needed assistance.
The cures of myopia, hypermetropia and astigmatism are said to be permanent.—
New York Press.

A Book for Liars.

Those who have read the original "Baron Munchausen"—and who has not?—will find enjoyment in the engaging narratives and adventures of "Munchausen XX," a lineal descendant of the famous prevaricator whose tales have become classic. The twentieth Munchausen is strictly up-to-date, and those who enjoy this harmless sort of fiction will find him an agreeable acquaintance. Rand, McNally & Co., Chicago; 256 pages; gray cloth; red and gold stamp.

The Tragedy of Saul.

Saul, the first King of Israel, always looms up before the imagination, somber and intense. Tradition hardly allows one to think of Saul save as in a deep study and in his royal robes. He is one of the most impelling figures in history; therefore it is hardly to be wondered at that, when Mr. Lewis A. Storrs determined to write a drama of which the mighty Israelite was to be the central figure, he did not name it "Saul" merely, but "The Tragedy of Saul." Familiar indeed are the names of Jonathan, David, Abner, Ahimelech, Malachi, the woman of Endor and other characters employed by Mr. Storrs in portraying the life of the great King. The volume is handsomely bound in blue cloth, stamped with gilt; 124 pages; G. W. Dil-lingham Co., New York.

For Literary Folk.

An admirable series of papers under the title of "Shelburne Essays," by Paul Elmer More, can hardly fail to interest students of things literary. These essays, which have just been collected into a volume, have been published during the last two years in different magazines. Such attractive titles as "The Solitude of Nathaniel Hawthorne," "The Origins of Hawthorne and Poe," "The Influence of Emerson," "The Spirit of Carlyle," "The Science of English Verse," "Arthur Symonds," "Tel-story," "Two Poets of the Irish Movement" and others are necessarily interesting to those persons who, not content with the superficial, find pleasure in going to the heart of things, and to whom men, as well as motives and finished products, are a study and a delight. G. P. Putnam's Sons,
New York; 233 pages; blue cloth.

The Christmas Delineator.

The December Delineator, with its message of good cheer and helpfulness, will be welcomed in every home. The fashion pages are unusually attractive, illustrating and describing the very latest modes in a way to make their construction during the busy festive season a pleasure instead of a task, and the literary and pictorial features are of rare excellence. A selection of love songs from the Wagner operas, rendered into English by Richard de Galli-erney and beautifully illustrated in colors by J. C. Leyendecker, occupies a prominent place, and a chapter in the composer's series, relating the romance of Wagner and Cosima, is an interesting supplement to the lyrics. A very clever paper entitled "The Court Circles of the Republic," describes some unique phases of Washington social life and is from an unnamed contributor, who is said to write from the inner circles of society. There are short stories from the pens of F. Hopkinson

Smith, Robert Grant, Alice Brown, Mary Stewart Cutting and Elmore Elliott Peake, and such interesting writers as Julia Magruder, L. Frank Baum and Grace Mac-Gowan Cooke hold the attention of the children. Many Christmas suggestions are given in needlework and the cookery pages are redolent of the Christmas feast. In addition, there are the regular departments of the magazine, with many special articles on topics relating to woman's interests within and without the home.

Poe in a Drama.

Edgar Allan Poe as the hero of a play!
Virginia Clemm as the heroine! It is a bold piece of business—this thing of trying to reduce the erratic bard of gloom and penury to paper—but Olive Tilford Dargan attempted it, in her drama entitled "The Poet," and none has yet come forward to say that her effort was not praiseworthy.
This play is the third in a beautiful volume by this author entitled "Semirams and Other Plays," just issued by Brentano's, Union Square, New York. "Semiramis" is a pretentious production of considerable power, the scene of which is laid in Nineveh, and is followed by "Carliotta," a drama dealing with the fortunes—or misfortunes—of the beautiful queen of Maxi-millian of Mexico; 255 pages; gray boards;
fine linen paper.

Two Good Books.

Houghton, Mifflin & Co. announce the publication in November of an important volume on "The Russo-Japanese Conflict; Its Causes and Issues," by K. Asakawa, Ph. D. In this account of the diplomatic and economic factors of the conflict, Dr.
Asakawa speaks with authority; for he is undoubtedly the most accomplished Japanese student of Eastern Asiatic politics and history now writing in English. He has taken degrees at Yale and at Dartmouth, where he is now a member of the faculty as lecturer on the far East. The same publishers will also bring out very shortly Thomas Bailey Aldrich's "Judith of Be-thulia." This play, written for Miss Nance O'Neill, and produced by her this autumn at the Tremont Theater, Boston, is in part a dramatization of the author's narrative poem "Judith and Holofernes."

Harmonized New Testament.

The Harmonized and Subject Reference
New Testament arranged by Rev. James W. Shearer is a great help to students of the Bible.

The text is the King James, but is arranged by numbered paragraphs, the numbers being the same for all the gospels.
Other numbers 1, 2, 3, 4 indicate the passages in which the subject is treated.
Thus, "34-1, 2" indicates that paragraph 84 relating to the cure of the Canaanitish woman's daughter is to be found in the first and second gospels and is not in the third and fourth. In like manner,
"12-1, 2, 4" indicates that paragraph 12
is found in the first, second and fourth gospels, and not in the third.

Other aids make this book a harmonious presentation by four writers of a consecutive story having reference to chro-nology, subject, locality, etc. Readers of the gospels who would blend the four narratives in a living unity will be greatly helped by Mr. Shearer's arrangement. (Published by The Subject Reference Co., Delaware, N. J.)

A Clerical Flaw.

"They have no pennies out in California!" said the man who was noted for being close, just home from a trip.
"What in the world did you do when the collection plate came around?" asked the parson.—Yonkers Statesman.

Hair

ON the Face, Neck and Arms Instantly removed without injury to the most delicate skin.
Woodbury
607 N. 7th St.
St. Louis

Lest you forget we say it yet

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

How is it with you?

There's Nothing in Illness
You have noticed the sallow skin of your neighbor,—the dullness, the yellow whites of another's eyes, but if you feel as you look this morning, you need a little help yourself.
Flatulence, Headache, a bad taste in the mouth are bad enough, but they are precursors of worse to come. If you have any of them, or if you are bilious, or constipated, you need a gentle, effective, harmless corrective; that is, you need Beecham's Pills.

Constipation is the common foe of modern human life.
From it spring full half the ills of humanity. Beecham's Pills cure CONSTIPATION; they keep the Stomach, the Liver, the Kidneys and the Bowels up to the mark.

Beecham's Pills

cure the present minor sicknesses and prevent the more serious troubles which will come if you don't right the wrong. All over the world their merits are known. A remedy so good for so many should be good for you.
Folks are pretty much alike the world over. Beecham's Pills have a way of restoring vigor to worn and wearied organs; they work for health, for clear brains, strong muscles, sound nerves.

Women, at certain times, should take especial care that Liver, Kidneys and Bowels are working properly and satisfactorily. Else will follow depression, sick headache, nervousness,—a train of almost unbearable troubles. When so simple a remedy as Beecham's Pills will do so much good, their use should become a good habit. They have saved the lives of many women who have followed the directions with every box.

Sold Everywhere in Boxes, 10c. and 25c.

ANTISEPTIC DENTISTRY

Clean hands, clean instruments, clean materials and clean operators insure our patients against every form of infection or contagion. In fact, the strictest antiseptic details prevail in every department of our work.
We employ none but skilled operators and use only the purest and best materials obtainable, therefore, our patrons get the best that modern, up-to-date dentistry affords and you can depend on our work as first-class in every particular, and our prices are reasonable.

THE CROWN DENTISTS 800 OLIVE ST.
Opp. Post-Office
HOURS DAILY: 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.
PAINLESS EXTRACTING, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.
We make you CROWN and bridge a specialty. We will give you a written guarantee for 15 years
with all our work.
FREE EXAMINATION to all who apply.
Dental work from 5 to 9 p. m., when all WORK and EXTRACTING will be done FREE.
THE CROWN DENTAL PARLORS 800 Olive St., St. Louis
Opp. Post-Office.

Over One Hundred
.. Men and Boys ..

Will apply for employment by advertising in the great

Sunday
Post-Dispatch = WANT = DIRECTORY

If you have any vacancies to be filled, will you kindly consider these 100 applicants?

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETINGS.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Columbia Lead Co.
will be held at the office of the company, 318 Security building, St. Louis, Mo., at 9 o'clock a. m. on Monday, Dec. 5, 1904, for the purpose of electing seven directors for the ensuing year and to transact any other business that may properly come before the meeting. Folks are open from 9 a. m.
to 1 p. m.
S. E. ROOS, Secretary. C. M. LARSEN, President.

DENTISTS.

TEETH

Porcelain and Gold-Crowned Bridge-work. Painless extracting. Gas given.
Plates of all kinds. Prices moderate.
DR. E. C. CHASE,
3, E. Corner Sixth and Locust.

New York Dental Rooms

509 OLIVE STREET
Established 45 Years in St. Louis. The most reliable Dental work done in the city at the lowest price. PAINLESS methods. All work guaranteed. We employ no students.

BOSTON STEAM DENTAL ROOMS
127-129—PAINLESS EXTRACTING.
Dr. J. H. Chase, Pres. Open 9 to 11 p. m. Sundays 9 to 11 a. m.
415 N. Broadway, bet. Locust and St. Charles.

DENTISTS.

TEETH EXTRACTED CLEANED FILLED, FREE
CROWNED AND BRIDGED

VITALIZED AIR GIVEN, 25c.
All work guaranteed 20 years. We do as we say. Gold work done on EASY PAY MENTS. The oldest and most reliable Dental College in the city.

UNION DENTAL COLLEGE - - - 622 OLIVE STREET.
Open daily. Sundays, 9 to 4 p. m. Evenings till 10. LARGEST COLLEGE IN WORLD.

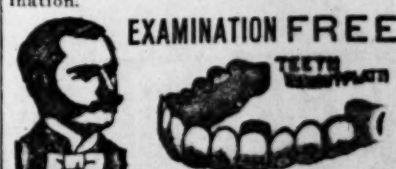

DENTISTS.

TEETH EXTRACTED CLEANED FILLED, FREE
CROWNED AND BRIDGED

Small Charge for Material Only.
In order to increase our trade, we have just added 40 new dental chairs and have decided to make Our Best Full Set of Teeth for $2
Gold Crowns, 22k.....$2.00
Bridge Work.....$2.00
Amalgam Fillings.....$2.00
Silver Fillings.....FREE Bone Fillings.....FREE
Plating Fillings.....50c
Gold Fillings.....50c

Reliable Dentistry

Teeth extracted absolutely without pain by our patent freeing process.
OUR SUCCESS is due to our high-grade work done positively without pain. Have your teeth examined by us before going elsewhere and see how you are overcharged by your dentist.
We guarantee to tighten loose teeth by our latest patent appliance. Loose and falling teeth made firm. Call for examination.

Don't be humbugged into high-priced private dental offices, who get one patient a week—he makes you pay high.
Our work is reliable, high grade.
SAVE PAIN. SAVE MONEY.
Best Set (8. S. WHITE).....$4.00
GOLD CROWN 22k.....$3.00
BRIDGE WORK, PER TOOTH.....$3.00
SILVER FILLINGS.....25c UP
GOLD FILLINGS.....75c UP
CLEANING TEETH.....25c
PAINLESS EXTRACTING.....25c
Our patent double suction inserted in every plate. It prevents the plate from falling or tipping.

Dr. Tarr (manager), regular licensed and graduate dentist, and his skilled staff of operators in constant attendance.
All work guaranteed for 20 years.

National Dental Parlors
720 OLIVE STREET.
Open Daily Till 9 p. m. Sundays All Day.

TEETH

EXTRACTED without pain Free by a new method of liquid air; no dangerous drugs or cocaine.
GAS GIVEN FREE.

Until Dec. 1st we have decided to make our new telephone plates with best teeth for $1.00—do not cover roof of mouth.
Guaranteed to bite corn off the cob.
20 years' guarantee.
BRIDGEWORK SPECIALISTS.
BEST SET OF DENTURE.....$2.00
22K GOLD CROWNS.....$2.00
GOLD FILLINGS.....$2.00
SILVER FILLINGS.....50c
Remember, we are up to date.

Chicago Dental Palace
Of New York and Boston.
St. Louis Office, 513 Olive St.
Open 9 to 11 p. m. Sundays 9 to 11 a. m.

ROOMS FOR RENT CITY

BARTHELVILLE, 3.50A—Nice room, one or two gentlemen; heat, gas, bath; reasonable.
 BURLINGTON, 1.50A—Two nicely furnished rooms, couple of 2 gentlemen; bath, heat; 1 block on 1st and 2nd streets.
 BURLINGTON, 1.50A—Two nicely furnished complete for housekeeping.
 BURLINGTON, 1.25A—Nicely furnished rooms, 1 block from Southern Hotel; $1.50 to $3 a week. Apply Mrs. Walker or Hall; fine baths.
 BURLINGTON, 1.15A—N. T. Le France; 100 new and 100 old; 10¢ a day; $3.50 per week at 10¢ a day; free fruits and steam heat.
 BURLINGTON, 2.125 N. Mail room, also rooms for light housekeeping.
 BURLINGTON, 1.300 N. Room for 2 gentlemen; 1 block from Southern Hotel.
 BURLINGTON, 629 S.—Furnished, 2 or 3 gentlemen; $1.25 and $1.50; housekeeping, $3 and $4.
 BURLINGTON, 1.50A—Two nicely furnished complete for housekeeping.

CALIFORNIA AV., 1633—Nice large room, suitable two gentlemen.

CAROLINE ST., 3583—Two rear furnished rooms with privilege of bath.

CARR ST., 1721—Nicely furnished rooms for light housekeeping; all conveniences; rent reasonable.

CARR AND THIRD STS.—Western Hotel; room $1 per week up; transients 25c up.

CARR AV. 1490—Beautiful front room; gas, bath.

unfurnished rooms in city; $8 and $10 month. (1)
CHESTNUT ST., 4215—Furnished rooms for housekeeping or guests.
CHESTNUT ST., 1100 1/2—Neatly furnished front and side rooms for gentlemen; also room, furnished complete for light housekeeping; reasonable rent.
HOUTEAU AV., 1106—Large room furnished complete for housekeeping; $3 week; also connecting rooms.

ROUTEAU AV. 1112-Connecting rooms, furnished complete for housekeeping, $4 week; room, $3; gas, bath, laundry.

ROUTEAU AV. 1322-Two large furnished rooms for parties, $1.25 per week; free bath.

LARK AV. 2250-Furnished rooms for light housekeeping; all conveniences; $2 up; bath.

LARK AV. 3010-Nicely furnished large from room, for gentlemen or light housekeeping. (6

AMPTON AV., 314 N.—2 elegant furnished rooms; light housekeeping; gas, bath; cheap; private first floor.
OOK AV., 4102—See rooms before renting; they are clean and warm; hot bath; furnace.
OOK AV., 3750—Pleasant south rooms, for one or two gentlemen; private home; modern conveniences.
OTE BRILLIANTE AV., 4418—Nicely furnished par or for couple or two gentlemen.
OTE BRILLIANTE AV., 5351—Furnished from

ASTON AV., 3914-A—4 or 6 furnished rooms (7)
light housekeeping. (C)

ASTON ST., 1203—Nicely furnished rooms, (7) conveniences; suitable for gentlemen; good location. (C)

ASTON AV., 3178A—Nicely furnished hall room (7)
for gentlemen. (C)

ASTON AV., 3116A—Furnished rooms; strictly (7)
clean; hall; heated; hot bath; private family. (C)

ASTON AV., 3178A—Two or three nicely fur- (7)
nished rooms; clean; hall; heated; hot bath; private family. (C) housekeeping, with gas range. (4)

ASTON AV., 5047-2 rooms; lovely furnished.
THIRTEENTH ST., 1501 S.—Furnished room with bath, one or two ladies; reas.
THIRTEENTH ST., 1125 N.—Newly furnished rooms; gentlemen or couple; bath, gas; $1.50 week. (2)
THIRTEENTH ST., 1019 N.—Handsomely furnished front and back room; gentlemen or house-

Age, Easton and Suburban cars; for 2 gentlemen or man and wife; very reasonable. (7)

ANN AV., 4248A—Three nice unfurnished basement rooms. (7)

INNEY AV., 3032A—Furnished hall room; $1.50 per week. (7)

INNEY AV., 3681—Furnished rooms; suitable for 2 gentlemen; $1.25 each per week. (9)

FOURTEENTH ST., 4421 N.—3 or 4 rooms nice

ANKLIN AV., 1408—Neatly furnished house-keeping rooms, 2d floor, with cook stove, $2.50.

bed for light housekeeping; southern exposure; reasonable. (7)

ANKLIN AV., 503D—Large front southern-exposed room; bath, gas, heat; good board; reasonable. (6)

ANKLIN AV., 342S—Nicely furnished room, by day or week; gas; free hot bath; reasonable. (1)

FURNISHED ROOM—Nice furnished room, in widow's home, for lady employed; no other visitors; terms very reasonable. Ad. R 19

PHILSON AV., 720 N.—Second-story front room
housekeeping; no children; gas, bath.

AND AV., 1718 N.—Two unfurnished rooms, light and clean; bath; $12 per month.

AND AV., 2850 N.—Large front and side rooms housekeeping if desired; cheap. (7)

ER AV., 4741—Two large rooms, completely furnished; gas range; all conveniences; to couple; reasonable. (8)

KOHY ST., 1523—Rooms for light housekeeping; big rooms, $3 to $3.50. (7)
 DIAMONT AV., 1275A—2nd furnished rooms for housekeeping, with gas and bath. (7)
 PERSON AV., 1802¹/₂ S.—Two rooms for light housekeeping. (7)
 FS ST., 1219—Large front room for 3 adults $1.25 per week each. Call.
 EDE AV., 3519—Two delightful front rooms; (therm. exposure; for reduced gentlemen; in

TON AV., 2024 (third floor)—Furnished rooms by week. (7)

1 ST., 1320—Two connecting furnished rooms for 4 gentlemen; gas, bath, heat. (7)

TON AV., 3142—Furnished rooms for housekeeping.

TON AV., 3140—2 large connecting housekeeping rooms; cook stove, bath, gas; $5 per week (7)

TON AV., 2023—Excellent, choice rooms; bath, gas, heat. (7)

ST ST., 811—Rooms. (1)

K. AV., 7441-Nicely furnished room, with housekeeping; use of parlor; $4 month;
ure. (7)

RVA AV., 5080-Second-floor front parlor, hall room, for gentlemen or couple; furniture, hot water and gas; private family; no roomers; one block north of Page. (8)

AN ST., 4124-World's Fair visitors, do you want a nice room, good bed, $5c each, two include all new and clean; see Arden House

AN ST., 2811—Two large connecting secondary rooms, furnished, for housekeeping; rooms. (19)

AN ST., 2810—Rooms for World's Fair visitors direct car line to Fair; 50c day. (20)

SKA. AV., 2624—Three large rooms, sun-front entrance; water and gas. (1)
NORTH ST. and FRANKLIN AV.—Three store; neatly furnished room for gentlemen and ladies.
ST., 1215 S.—House for gentlemen or ladies only; no children.

SWORE INNOCENCE ON MOTHER'S BODY

Tragic Scene in Gay Household at Funeral of the Murdered Woman.

OPINION FAVORS HUSBAND

Recent Developments Likely to Secure Discharge of Father and Son Charged With Crime.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 25.—George W. Gay and his son, Lester Gay, who are in jail here charged with the murder of Mrs. Nancy Goodwin Gay, the wife and mother, are likely to be released soon.

A neighbor of Gay's found yesterday afternoon, close to the home, the old suit hat worn by the strange negro seen in the vicinity of the Gay home before and after the murder. Other neighbors have identified the hat as the one worn by the negro when he was seen going in the direction of the Gay home. Others say when the negro boarded a train at Agency, later in the day, he wore a soft hat.

Two hats are missing from Gay's house, one belonging to him and the other to his son. A pair of trousers belonging to the boy are also gone. These circumstances have turned the opinion of the neighbors greatly in favor of Gay and his son, against whom the feeling was very high yesterday at the time of their arrest, as they were leaving the cemetery after the burial.

Gay says he expected to be arrested for the crime. He heard it from the gossip of the neighbors congregated for the funeral of his murdered wife.

At the funeral, yesterday Lester Gay was led to the side of his dead mother by an aunt, who said to him in impressive tones: "Lester, if you know anything about this tell it now."

Standing beside the dead body of his mother, with one hand resting on her breast the youth looked through his tears into the eyes of the woman who admonished him, and replied:

"Before God I know nothing about my mother's murder. I am innocent and she is innocent."

The declaration of the boy has convinced all who heard him that he at least knows nothing of the horrible crime by which his mother met her awful death on Wednesday.

Mandolins, guitars, violins, banjos, at Dunn's, 212 Franklin avenue.

INFANTRY BAND CAUSED PROTEST

St. Louis Musicians' Union Not Satisfied With New York Charity Ball Music.

The Musicians' Union of St. Louis has entered a protest to the New York commission at the World's Fair for permitting a band to play at Friday night's charity ball and kirkness in the New York state building.

Services of the Sixteenth Infantry Band were offered free for the occasion, and accepted. Before this was done, however, it is said that Mrs. Dore Lyon, one of the hostesses, attempted to conciliate with the union by having its members play at a reduced price. This offer was not accepted and the Infantry band played during the entire evening.

FOR PIN MONEY.
Can you spare a nice room
at a dollar or two?
Good roomers read
Post-Dispatch want ads—they do.

CONCESSION RECEIPTS LARGE

Figures Show That Inside Inn and Tyrolean Alps Lead—Fair
Gets $1,124,500.

A list of the gross receipts of nine concessions at the World's Fair has been compiled in the Exposition company's office.

The figures are taken for the six months of the Exposition closing Oct. 31, and serve to show the enormous amounts that have been expended by Fair visitors in the matter of entertainment.

Of all the concessions the Inside Inn leads. The gross receipts of this concession for six months, according to the figures compiled, are $1,341,000. In the amusement line the Tyrolean Alps concession leads, having gross receipts of $900,000.

Other receipts at: Beer War, $338,000; Irish village, $330,000; Hale's fire fighters, $236,000; Statuesque, $200,000; Jim Key, educated horse, $212,000; Galveston food, $230,000; New York to North Pole, $100,000; Hag-enbeck's $260,000.

Of these amounts the Exposition company gets a per centage approximately at 35 per cent, or $1,124,500.

$100 reward will be paid to detectives, police officers or citizens for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons cutting or destroying electric wire installed in any building. St. Louis Electrical Contractors' Ass'n, Room 529 Odd Fellows' building, or Edward T. Cooke, secretary, 148 Chestnut street.

Changed His Mind.
From the Chicago Tribune.
Swaddicomb: Last time I saw you, if I remember rightly, you told me you were about to be married.

Tippley: I did intend to be, but at the last moment another rich relative died and left me a lot more money, and I haven't meant it all yet.

DR. PIERCE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

Improves the flavor and adds to the healthfulness of the food.

FRENCH SAILOR SAYS HE WILL WALK AROUND WORLD ON BIG WAGER

GUSTAVE LAURENT
GLOBE TROTTER.

This Globe-Trotter Proposes to Walk Across Five Continents Penninsula.

Must Make Trip on Dry Land Afoot and on Ocean Without Funds—Arrives in St. Louis Hale and Hearty and Is the Guest of Friends.

Gustave Laurent, a French sailor, who says he is competing for a prize of 10,000 francs, given by the Touring Club of France to the man who will cross five continents afoot, penniless within five years, reached St. Louis Thursday as the guest of George Fumey of the French Club, 253 Pine street.

Laurent must walk across the dry parts of the world and work his way across the wet to earn the prize.

He left Marseilles, France, June 7, 1902, with 10 cents in his pockets, as a coal passer on a tramp steamer bound for Saigon, Cochin, China, and from there walked across China and all over the Orient, including Japan. He walked across Siberia and into Russia, and was for a time valued to United States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

States Consul Clarence R. Slocum in War-

saw. He was arrested and thrown into a Russian prison as a Japanese spy who was crossing the border into Germany. From England he went to New York, and is now on his way across the American continent to San Francisco, whence he will work his way to Mexico and cross it to Central America. After crossing South America, he will sail to Australia, and go across Africa, and must reach Marseilles again December, 1904, to win the prize.

He will visit the World's Fair in St. Louis and obtain the signatures of officials to vouch for his presence here. He carries a scrap book containing letters of introduction from officials of all the countries he has visited, and one from President Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Lobb.

MINISTER DIES AFTER LONG FAST

Rev. D. C. Buckles Believed He Had Been Commanded to Abstain From Food.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 25.—The Rev. D. C. Buckles, aged 80, was found dead in his chamber at a hotel in Addyston, a suburb, with his sister on her knees at his side.

"I know that my brother is not dead, but only sleeping," she wailed. "The Lord would not call him to fast and then take his life from him by his obedience."

Mr. Buckles, according to his sister and many other witnesses, had voluntarily fasted for 41 days. During the greater part of this time his sister also had fasted, and she is now so weak as to be scarcely able to walk.

Two years ago the Rev. Mr. Buckles came to Addyston from Clermont County, where he had for years been a preacher and evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

At first he was violently opposed to a congregation of so-called "holiness" believers, but a few months ago he himself was converted to the "holiness" faith, and 41 days ago he announced that he had been commanded from on high to fast, in the assurance that he would in this way receive remission of sins and greater power for good.

At first the faster was not interfered with, but as he lay on his bed day after day, manifestly growing weaker constantly, his friends implored him to break his fast. His pastor, the Rev. J. S. Young, warned him repeatedly that death must be the result, but could not move him.

It was repeatedly suggested that the village authorities be called upon to prevent the continuance of the fast, but nothing was done.

It is supposed that Buckles died at about 8 o'clock this morning. Friends who called at 8 o'clock were told by the sister that he was sleeping, and it was only after much persuasion that she admitted them to his apartment.

Baptists Have "Churchwarming."

Baptists of the city met Friday night in the Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington avenues, to celebrate the occupancy of the building, which has just been remodeled and greatly enlarged. The church will not be dedicated until the debt of $12,000 which rests upon it is paid.

Two years ago the Rev. Mr. Buckles came to Addyston from Clermont County, where he had for years been a preacher and evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

At first he was violently opposed to a congregation of so-called "holiness" believers, but a few months ago he himself was converted to the "holiness" faith, and 41 days ago he announced that he had been commanded from on high to fast, in the assurance that he would in this way receive remission of sins and greater power for good.

At first the faster was not interfered with, but as he lay on his bed day after day, manifestly growing weaker constantly, his friends implored him to break his fast. His pastor, the Rev. J. S. Young, warned him repeatedly that death must be the result, but could not move him.

It was repeatedly suggested that the village authorities be called upon to prevent the continuance of the fast, but nothing was done.

It is supposed that Buckles died at about 8 o'clock this morning. Friends who called at 8 o'clock were told by the sister that he was sleeping, and it was only after much persuasion that she admitted them to his apartment.

Baptists Have "Churchwarming."

Baptists of the city met Friday night in the Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington avenues, to celebrate the occupancy of the building, which has just been remodeled and greatly enlarged. The church will not be dedicated until the debt of $12,000 which rests upon it is paid.

Two years ago the Rev. Mr. Buckles came to Addyston from Clermont County, where he had for years been a preacher and evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

At first he was violently opposed to a congregation of so-called "holiness" believers, but a few months ago he himself was converted to the "holiness" faith, and 41 days ago he announced that he had been commanded from on high to fast, in the assurance that he would in this way receive remission of sins and greater power for good.

At first the faster was not interfered with, but as he lay on his bed day after day, manifestly growing weaker constantly, his friends implored him to break his fast. His pastor, the Rev. J. S. Young, warned him repeatedly that death must be the result, but could not move him.

It was repeatedly suggested that the village authorities be called upon to prevent the continuance of the fast, but nothing was done.

It is supposed that Buckles died at about 8 o'clock this morning. Friends who called at 8 o'clock were told by the sister that he was sleeping, and it was only after much persuasion that she admitted them to his apartment.

Baptists Have "Churchwarming."

Baptists of the city met Friday night in the Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington avenues, to celebrate the occupancy of the building, which has just been remodeled and greatly enlarged. The church will not be dedicated until the debt of $12,000 which rests upon it is paid.

Two years ago the Rev. Mr. Buckles came to Addyston from Clermont County, where he had for years been a preacher and evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

At first he was violently opposed to a congregation of so-called "holiness" believers, but a few months ago he himself was converted to the "holiness" faith, and 41 days ago he announced that he had been commanded from on high to fast, in the assurance that he would in this way receive remission of sins and greater power for good.

At first the faster was not interfered with, but as he lay on his bed day after day, manifestly growing weaker constantly, his friends implored him to break his fast. His pastor, the Rev. J. S. Young, warned him repeatedly that death must be the result, but could not move him.

It was repeatedly suggested that the village authorities be called upon to prevent the continuance of the fast, but nothing was done.

It is supposed that Buckles died at about 8 o'clock this morning. Friends who called at 8 o'clock were told by the sister that he was sleeping, and it was only after much persuasion that she admitted them to his apartment.

Baptists Have "Churchwarming."

Baptists of the city met Friday night in the Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington avenues, to celebrate the occupancy of the building, which has just been remodeled and greatly enlarged. The church will not be dedicated until the debt of $12,000 which rests upon it is paid.

Two years ago the Rev. Mr. Buckles came to Addyston from Clermont County, where he had for years been a preacher and evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

At first he was violently opposed to a congregation of so-called "holiness" believers, but a few months ago he himself was converted to the "holiness" faith, and 41 days ago he announced that he had been commanded from on high to fast, in the assurance that he would in this way receive remission of sins and greater power for good.

At first the faster was not interfered with, but as he lay on his bed day after day, manifestly growing weaker constantly, his friends implored him to break his fast. His pastor, the Rev. J. S. Young, warned him repeatedly that death must be the result, but could not move him.

It was repeatedly suggested that the village authorities be called upon to prevent the continuance of the fast, but nothing was done.

It is supposed that Buckles died at about 8 o'clock this morning. Friends who called at 8 o'clock were told by the sister that he was sleeping, and it was only after much persuasion that she admitted them to his apartment.

Baptists Have "Churchwarming."

Baptists of the city met Friday night in the Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington avenues, to celebrate the occupancy of the building, which has just been remodeled and greatly enlarged. The church will not be dedicated until the debt of $12,000 which rests upon it is paid.

Two years ago the Rev. Mr. Buckles came to Addyston from Clermont County, where he had for years been a preacher and evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

At first he was violently opposed to a congregation of so-called "holiness" believers, but a few months ago he himself was converted to the "holiness" faith, and 41 days ago he announced that he had been commanded from on high to fast, in the assurance that he would in this way receive remission of sins and greater power for good.

At first the faster was not interfered with, but as he lay on his bed day after day, manifestly growing weaker constantly, his friends implored him to break his fast. His pastor, the Rev. J. S. Young, warned him repeatedly that death must be the result, but could not move him.

It was repeatedly suggested that the village authorities be called upon to prevent the continuance of the fast, but nothing was done.

It is supposed that Buckles died at about 8 o'clock this morning. Friends who called at 8 o'clock were told by the sister that he was sleeping, and it was only after much persuasion that she admitted them to his apartment.

Baptists Have "Churchwarming."

Baptists of the city met Friday night in the Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington avenues, to celebrate the occupancy of the building, which has just been remodeled and greatly enlarged. The church will not be dedicated until the debt of $12,000 which rests upon it is paid.

Two years ago the Rev. Mr. Buckles came to Addyston from Clermont County, where he had for years been a preacher and evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

At first he was violently opposed to a congregation of so-called "holiness" believers, but a few months ago he himself was converted to the "holiness" faith, and 41 days ago he announced that he had been commanded from on high to fast, in the assurance that he would in this way receive remission of sins and greater power for good.

At first the faster was not interfered with, but as he lay on his bed day after day, manifestly growing weaker constantly, his friends implored him to break his fast. His pastor, the Rev. J. S. Young, warned him repeatedly that death must be the result, but could not move him.

It was repeatedly suggested that the village authorities be called upon to prevent the continuance of the fast, but nothing was done.

It is supposed that Buckles died at about 8 o'clock this morning. Friends who called at 8 o'clock were told by the sister that he was sleeping, and it was only after much persuasion that she admitted them to his apartment.

Baptists Have "Churchwarming."

Baptists of the city met Friday night in the Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington avenues, to celebrate the occupancy of the building, which has just been remodeled and greatly enlarged. The church will not be dedicated until the debt of $12,000 which rests upon it is paid.

Two years ago the Rev. Mr. Buckles came to Addyston from Clermont County, where he had for years been a preacher and evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

At first he was violently opposed to a congregation of so-called "holiness" believers, but a few months ago he himself was converted to the "holiness" faith, and 41 days ago he announced that he had been commanded from on high to fast, in the assurance that he would in this way receive remission of sins and greater power for good.

At first the faster was not interfered with, but as he lay on his bed day after day, manifestly growing weaker constantly, his friends implored him to break his fast. His pastor, the Rev. J. S. Young, warned him repeatedly that death must be the result, but could not move him.

It was repeatedly suggested that the village authorities be called upon to prevent the continuance of the fast, but nothing was done.

It is supposed that Buckles died at about 8 o'clock this morning. Friends who called at 8 o'clock were told by the sister that he was sleeping, and it was only after much persuasion that she admitted them to his apartment.

Baptists Have "Churchwarming."